ITALIAN AIR RAIDERS AGAIN BOMB DESSYE

Supreme Court Ponders Bruno's Plea While Controversy Rages

DENY PARKER HAS 'LEAD' ON CASE

Detective's Investigation Discredited By State Officials Today

ARREST IS DENIED

New York Paper Prints Statement That New Suspect Is Known

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 7. (AP)—As the United States supreme court in Washington considered the appeal of Bruno Hauptmann behind closed doors today, a controversy raged over the value of the investigation of Detective Ellis Parker, who informed Gov. Harold Hoffman he is convinced Hauptmann did not abduct the murdered Lindbergh baby.

A high state official said Parker told prosecutors, at the Flemington trial of the Bronx carpenter, that he had "nothing of value" on the case.

Parker Convinced This official said, furthermore, that Parker told them at that time he was convinced of Hauptmann's guilt.

The official quoted the detective as saying: "Frankly, I haven't got a single lead and furthermore I am convinced Hauptmann was the man."

This source told the Associated Press a conference was arranged with Parker "because we were tired of hearing about him and all the information he was supposed to have on the case."

At the statehouse Governor Hoffman was kept busy denying published reports concerning the developments.

Governor Denies The governor denied that Parker had told him the name of the person he believes kidnapped and murdered the infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Commenting on another report that Parker had taken someone into custody, as a result of his long investigation, the governor declared:

"If Ellis Parker had made an arrest, I would be one of the first to hear of it."

That Parker knows the name of the kidnaper and has a photograph of him was published by the New York Post in a dispatch from Trenton. The dispatch said: (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

DIONNES MOVIE FILM INSURED

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 7. (AP)—A strip of negative movie film, less than a city block long, but insured for more than $2,000,000, rests in a steel-lined studio vault here today. It is the test scenes of the Dionne quintuplets.

The film was brought here by airplane yesterday from Canada, where a 20th Century-Fox company is "on location," photographing the five little girls in Dafoe hospital. Insurance policies, covering every conceivable damage have been written.

Do People Die and Come to Life Again? Nixon Jay of Anaheim Apparently Did

These stories about people dying and coming to life again are not all hokey after all. Nixon Jay of Ohio street, Anaheim, did it.

The story came to light today. Mr. Jay was operated upon in the county hospital last week. Apparently everything was going along all right and his family thought he was recovering. They were looking forward to the time when he would come home.

And then, last Sunday night, a telephone call came to the Jay residence at Anaheim. It was from the hospital. An interne informed Mrs. Jay that her husband had passed away.

Crushed by grief, Mrs. Jay informed relatives of the news. She sent a telegram to members of the family in the East.

And then, at 11 p. m., there was another phone call from the hospital. Mr. Jay was alive!

"Your husband isn't dead at all," the happy wife was informed.

Dr. Harry Zaiser, superintendent of the hospital, said today that the mixup was caused by the fact that two men in the hospital had the same name. One was Hayman Nixon. The other was Nixon Jay. But Nixon Jay was not the Nixon who died.

Today Mr. Jay feels like Mark Twain, the famous humorist, who said when his own demise was announced, that the report of his death had been greatly exaggerated.

South Carolina Highway Commission Suspended By Gov. Johnston

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 7. (AP)—The South Carolina state highway commission, ousted by Gov. Olin Johnston with troops Oct. 28 and reinstated by the supreme court Thursday, was removed or suspended again today by executive orders that spared only its one Johnston adherent.

While national guardsmen seized a disputed highway license office at Charleston, the governor announced his action had swept the commission out of the nominal control that was left it when his reinforced troops continued to hold the highway offices in the face of an adverse court decision.

Bank Of America Eases Financial Troubles Of Coast Village

CLEAR UP OLD BILLS

Money Pledged Today To Mayor Smith By Bank Officer

The city of San Clemente today saw its way through a bewildering cloud of financial difficulties which has blanketed the Spanish Village for several years, when Bank of America officials announced that back taxes totalling nearly $90,000 will be paid by the bank at once.

The bank recently came to the rescue of city officials, when a decision was reached to curtail civic operations due to lack of funds, and made a payment of $2500 on delinquent taxes. Street lighting and other necessary community operations were continued with use of this money.

Amounts Told Tax delinquencies running through 1932-33 to 1934-35 were to be paid today, it was announced. Amounts due the city for 1932-33 were $6406 for general taxes and $12,373 on 1915 bond act assessments, according to tax figures. Figures for 1933-34 were $7198 general and $23,908 special assessment taxes, while for 1934-35 the general tax was $5683 and the special assessment figure $23,462.

The bank's total delinquencies, not including 1935-36, are $91,374, less the recent $2500 payment, according to City Tax Collector Den M. Acres. This leaves a total of $88,874 which officials expected today.

Pledge Payment Today Mayor A. T. Smith talked with Tom Walker, vice-president of the Bank of America, in charge of branch banks, yesterday, and was assured that the delinquencies would be paid today, he reported.

Payment of the back taxes will place San Clemente in better shape than any other sixth class city in Orange county, according to City Clerk William Holmes, who said that civic debts amount to about $22,000. The city has no bonded indebtedness with the exception of the street and sewer improvements, under the 1915 bond act, and the lighting district, he reported.

ABANDON HOPE FOR FLIERS

CANBERRA, Australia, Dec. 7. (AP)—Hope for rescue of Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and his co-pilot, Tony Fitch, lost on a projected flight from England to Australia, was abandoned officially today by the Australian government.

Prime Minister J. A. Lyons announced no further hope existed for the fliers and the parliament adopted a motion recording its appreciation for Kingsford-Smith's achievements.

Burnett Lane, who is in charge of the caddies at the club, sort of elected Mrs. Talbert for the No. 1 story yesterday when he got to reminiscing for the benefit of some newspaper boys.

"You see the wash out there," said Lane, pointing to a long low spot that gets muddy when it rains. "Well, Mrs. Talbert drove across the wash for the eighteenth hole. She couldn't see her ball after she hit it, but she figured it was a good drive and must have landed close to the green. It had been raining and there was mud about. She kept looking for her ball and couldn't find it. Finally she got close to the green at the eighteenth hole and happened to look down at her club. There was her ball, stuck to the club on a gob of mud."

"What did she do then?" A twinkle came into Lane's eye.

"I don't suppose I should tell this," he remarked, "but what she did was to pick the ball off the mud, drop it on the green and putt it into the cup in a perfect shot!" Lane told another story that probably wasn't so funny until Jim Liebig's head heaved up.

It happened that Don Harwood was teasing a ball with a niblick and the pellet shot almost straight up in the air. Jim Liebig was standing nearby, and a moment later he went straight up, too. They said the ball had blood on it when they picked it off Liebig's head.

It seems that the women really excel when it comes to building up the legends of the country club.

"One time," remarked Lane. (Please Turn to Page 8, Col. 4)

Concessions Made By Both Sides; Men Go To Work Monday

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 7. (AP)—District leaders of the International Longshoremen's association today concluded a statement of their differences with coastwise lines, thereby ending the long strike of the I. L. A. in Texas and at Lake Charles, La., insofar as those lines are concerned.

I. L. A. spokesmen said members of the union would return to work on Monday on coastwise ships. They have been on strike since Oct. 11.

Both sides made concessions, and the old wage scale was placed in effect again with steamship operators recognizing an affiliated union of warehouse clerks and checkers.

TWO ARMORIES APPROVED

A treasury department warrant authorizing construction of 30 California Works Progress administration projects, including $75,000 armories at Orange and Anaheim, has been signed by the comptroller-general at Washington, D. C., it was announced today.

A national guard armory for Santa Ana, costing $80,000, is part of the same general project. No information has been received locally as to why the local armory was not listed with those for Anaheim and Orange. It is believed that news of its approval for construction will be forthcoming shortly.

Emperor Selassie Uninjured; Total Deaths Reach 55

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press) ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 7.—The Ethiopian government announced that Dessye, field headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie, was bombarded heavily again today.

The second aerial attack on the King of Kings started at 8 a. m. today, just 24 hours after the original assault which caused 55 deaths, wounded nearly 200, damaged the American hospital, Red Cross tents and the imperial palace—but failed to injure Haile Selassie himself.

Nine powerful Italian planes dropped more than 1000 bombs and turned a stream of machine gun fire on the Ethiopian concentration point between the northern and southern fronts during the 17 minutes attack yesterday, and the government indicated today's assault was again severe.

The Fascist bombers appeared anew, intent on carrying out their mission, as authorities of the town where the emperor went last week to take personal command of his armies in the field were attempting to care for those wounded yesterday and to quiet the panic-stricken populace.

Four Planes in Raid Today's raid was carried out by four Italian planes which dropped more than 50 bombs.

Again today, as yesterday, the emperor escaped injury. He spent last night in a tent. The total amount of the damage was not immediately reported to the capital.

RAID'S TOLL PLACED AT 55 BY OFFICIALS WITH EMPEROR HAILE SELASSIE AT DESSYE, Ethiopia, 11 p. m., Friday, Dec. 6. (AP)—Ethiopian authorities stated tonight that the total casualties from today's bombing raid by an Italian air squadron were 55 dead and more than 300 wounded.

In addition to the bombing of the American hospital, the Italian planes dropped a score of bombs on the Red Cross hospital sponsored by Lady Barton, wife of the British minister, but many of these did not explode.

An enormous Red Cross flag was displayed on the ground in front of this hospital at the time of the Italian attack.

Photographer Helps Dr. Valentine Schuppler, a Viennese physician and superintendent of the hospital, remained at the scene throughout the bombing, treating the wounded, assisted only by Franz Roth, Associated Press staff photographer, who anesthetized the patients while Dr. Schuppler performed operations.

The Associated Press motor truck served as an ambulance, removing nearly 100 wounded persons from the places where they were struck down to the hospital.

IRREGULARITIES IN STATE FUNDS ARE TOLD TO INVESTIGATORS

LONG REPORT IS MADE TO COMMITTEE

Practices Of Employees Over 6-Year Period Revealed In Audit

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Irregularities discovered in state funds over a six-year period came to the attention today of an assembly committee investigating state audits.

D. A. Sargent, Oakland accountant, submitted a 33-page report to Chairman Leon Donihue, containing voluminous excerpts of practices noted by state auditors.

An audit report on the railroad commission from March, 1932, to March, 1935, said, Wallace Blight, working for $190 a month as a press operator for the compensation insurance fund, received $1210 from the commission revolving fund.

Unknown To Superior
"Mr. Blight states he worked half of his hours on a printing press owned by the railroad commission," said the report. "Mr. Blight's superior officer in the compensation insurance fund disclaimed any knowledge of the work or of any payments to Mr. Blight by the railroad commission."

In the same report, Elmer Luning, a commission clerk, was said to have been the "principal" of a messenger firm, which received $2408 in the three-year period from the commission.

Banking Of Fees
A report on the Fresno State Teachers college asserted that $4965 in summer session fees were collected in 1930 and placed in a bank other than the depository for a state cash fund. The bank closed and "no record of these collections was made in the cash state record until the first liquidating dividend was received, when a memo of the whole transaction was entered."

Reports on other state funds commented on dilatory presentation of bills, failures to keep records and in one instance a repeated failure to follow recommendations, salary advances from revolving funds outstanding for several years, issuance of permits before the collection of fees and a failure to collect penalties.

Fresno and joined in questioning the youth.

The officers checked his description minutely with that of the hypothetical description of the slayer as worked out by E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist. The suspect was arrested at an eastside address as Los Angeles detectives suddenly climaxed several days of secret investigation with a Fresno attorney and relatives of the girl.

Saltkoff admitted, Detective Lieutenant E. A. Turner said that he had been in Fresno at the time of the slaying Nov. 24, but denied any knowledge of the young girl's fatal shooting. Turner said the victim's father and uncle learned Saltkoff had been pruning fig trees in the neighborhood of the Stammer home and left the day of the slaying without collecting a half week's salary due him. The laborer was found in bed when his home was searched by detectives, Turner said, after his relatives told them Saltkoff was not there. In a closet, Turner reported, a stained shirt was found.

BANDIT GIVEN LIFE TERM

Already serving a term in San Quentin prison, Howard Clifton Owens yesterday was sentenced to serve a life term in Folsom upon completion of his San Quentin sentence. Judgment was pronounced by Presiding Judge James L. Allen, department 2, superior court.

Owen, who earlier was sentenced to prison in Kern county for service station robberies, was sentenced here to Folsom on charges of grand theft, second degree robbery and kidnapping. The life sentence was for the kidnapping of W. Vernon Thompson, Costa Mesa service station operator. The robbery and grand theft charges will run concurrently with the life term.

Owen recently pleaded guilty to stealing the automobile of Martin Elliott, robbery of the Costa Mesa service station, and kidnapping of Thompson, station attendant.

Marco Mendoza, John Perez and Christ Federico, who pleaded guilty to charges of arson in connection with the burning of a barn belonging to the Whitson Lumber company and a hay stack owned by C. L. Marchant, were denied probation and sentenced to San Quentin.

The detective said he had worked alone in his investigation. "I never asked the state police for information except once," he said. "I didn't get it and naturally I have never asked them since that time."

The deliberation of the supreme court justices in Washington was on the question of whether they should review the case of the convicted kidnaper-murderer of the Lindbergh baby.

The decision will not be announced before Monday.

SOUTH MAIN JOB STARTS ON DEC. 16

Work on extension of South Main street from Newport road to Corona Del Mar will start Dec. 16, provided the county by that time has worked out its problem of providing $15,000 for the sponsor's contribution. This date was announced Friday by Dan Mulherron, Works Progress administrator director, following a conference with Nat Neff, highway superintendent, and Arthur Beard, assistant.

Launching of the work would provide jobs at first for 100 men and later for 400, Mr. Mulherron said. This would be enough to take care of workers who will be out of jobs within a week as a result of completion of other projects.

The county, credited with $13,000 for rights-of-way, needs $15,000 to make up its sponsor's contribution for the project. Supervisor N. E. West, in whose district most of the roadway will lie, said today there are no available funds in his district which could be referred to the project, and that any money needed would have to come from the general fund or unappropriated reserve.

The board of supervisors is scheduled to make a decision in the matter at its meeting Tuesday.

MOONEY CALLS WIFE, IN-LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Thomas J. Mooney, acting as his own attorney, placed his wife and sister-in-law on the witness stand at his New York hearing Friday but both women denied knowledge of his flight north in the near future.

Howard I. Wood, chamber secretary, today received a letter from Harry Welch, secretary of the New York chamber, in which Mr. Welch recalled that some months ago when Mr. Martin was at Balboa, he agreed to such a plan if it were practical. The chamber requires 4000 feet of clear waterway in order to take off, and it is believed that this space is available to the harbor.

MAN SUING FOR LOSS OF EYE

Alleging that negligence in operating and improper care caused the loss of his left eye, Walter William Neahr, riveter from Wilmington, started suit yesterday in superior court to recover damages totalling $37,500. He named as defendants the state compensation insurance fund, St. Joseph's hospital company, Dr. H. M. Curry, Santa Ana, and Dr. Ralph E. Hawes, Huntington Beach, and other unidentified persons.

Mr. Neahr, an employee of the Wilmington Welding and Boiler Works, according to the complaint, was injured Dec. 9, last, when a flying rivet struck him in the left eye and the point of the metal imbedded itself in the eyeball.

He charges that he was sent, on instructions from the state compensation insurance fund, to Dr. Hawes for treatment and later moved to St. Joseph's hospital where Dr. Curry was called and an operation performed. The suit alleges that all of the metal was not removed from the eye and that due to carelessness and negligence the eye became infected and its removal followed.

NEW BUS SERVICE STARTS MONDAY WITH LOW RATES

Beginning Monday the Santa Ana Bus service will inaugurate service on new lines and extend its old ones, it was announced today by C. H. Eckles, owner. The new service will cover more than 200 miles daily and reach areas of the city that have never had bus service, Mr. Eckles said.

Fares will be reduced from seven to five cents. A free transfer system between the three old routes and the two new ones will make it possible to travel as much as four miles for five cents, he said.

The areas to benefit particularly from the new plan are the Broadway Park district, South Birch to Wilshire, the Orange avenue and Oak street area and South Main to Del Rio road. The route through Broadway Park covers North Park boulevard to Riverside Drive, the full length of Riverside Drive to Flower street, returning via North Park boulevard, Benton Way, Bonnie Brae and Santa Clara to the old route on North Broadway.

Half-hour Schedules
The new route on South Birch to Wilshire, returning via Orange avenue and Oak street has a time schedule operating on the 15 and 45 minute periods, alternating with the South Main schedule which runs on the hour and half hour.

Inauguration of the new service follows a study of the bus situation by a city council committee, which recommended that Mr. Eckles be authorized to make the changes. The committee's report said that when the Pacific Electric Railway Company applied to the railroad commission to discontinue its service here, the Santa Ana council realized the city would be without bus service.

Agreement in 1929
At about this time, the report said, Mr. Eckles applied for a bus service permit and offered to continue the service under an agreement that he would have the exclusive right to operate buses during the life of the agreement. This agreement was entered on Oct. 14, 1929. It provides that Mr. Eckles must establish any bus route demanded by the council, but that after 90 days, if it proves unprofitable, he may terminate the line on 30 days notice.

The report said investigation showed that for several years Mr. Eckles operated bus service without receiving enough returns to pay the cost of operation, and that he has combined the service with operation of school buses for the board of education. A failure on the part of either of these services might result in failure of both, leaving the city without bus transportation, said the report.

Adds New Machines
The investigation also showed that Mr. Eckles has bought four new truck chassis locally for local bus service. Furthermore it showed that prior to the time that Albert Hazelhurst ceased to be superintendent for the lines, he and Mr. Eckles had discussed the feasibility of adding new lines and extending old ones. Mr. Hazelhurst recently applied for a permit to operate lines of his own. The report said that while it has no criticism to make of Mr. Hazelhurst for making his application, it feels that in fairness to Mr. Eckles, who has $10,000 invested in equipment and employs five local men, he should be given an opportunity to continue providing bus service.

LET YOUR NEXT RANGE BE ELECTRIC

Mr. Eckles said today that bus service is not maintained at night or on Sunday because experience has shown that citizens use their own cars at these times rather than buses. On week days they use buses to go to work, or when the family car is gone, women use buses for shopping. At night and on Sunday the family car is at home and the family uses it, said Mr. Eckles. Experience has shown, Mr. Eckles said, that any profit made in the daytime in a city of this size can be lost through operation of bus service at night or on Sunday, when the overhead expense continues but the travel is extremely light.

More than 50 per cent of the total tax charge against the county was paid before first installment taxes became delinquent Thursday, according to Tax Collector John Lamb.

Thursday's payments over the counter totaled $228,266.41 and represented 1678 payments. In addition to the total now showing on the books of Collector Lamb, there are several mail pouches full of checks that have not yet been credited on the books.

In the mail pouches are payments from oil companies and other owners of large tracts of land, representing the largest taxpayers, Mr. Lamb said. When these payments have been recorded, he said, more than half the total charge of $4,780,340.83 will have been paid.

Boost the New Bus Service for the Good of Santa Ana and to Your Own Advantage in Travel Cost!

After six tough years, the old routes are a little out of the red. Now we venture into 200 miles per day of new routes. To make the service permanent; a great increase in travel volume is necessary. A 5c fare means a real saving to you. It costs money to start a cold engine and run a mile or two. Then you worry over parking space. And, your car suffers from sun and rain.

TOWNSEIDITES RALLY SLATED

All Townsend clubs of Orange county have been invited to attend a mass by the Rev. Rex Barr of Long Beach in the Santa Ana American Legion hall at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The Rev. Mr. Barr will show motion pictures of the recent national convention in Chicago as part of the program. Ted E. Felt, new district Townsend manager, will also be a speaker, it was announced. A small admission will be charged.

St. Joseph's Catholic church will observe the feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Mother of God with masses at 7, 8:30 and 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The Holy Name society of the church will attend the 7 o'clock mass in a body.

Throughout the nation, Catholic priests tomorrow will renew for their parishioners the following pledge of the Legion of Decency:

"I wish to join the Legion of Decency, which condemns vile and unwholesome pictures. I unite with all who protest against them as a grave menace to youth, to home life, to country and to religion."

"I condemn absolutely those degrading motion pictures which, with other degrading agencies, are corrupting public morals and promoting a sex mania in our land."

"I shall do all that I can to arouse public opinion against the portrayal of vice as a normal condition of affairs, and against depicting criminals of any class as heroes or heroines, presenting their filthy philosophy of life as something acceptable to decent men and women."

"I regret that so many of our daily newspapers seem to have lost all sense of shame in advertising and reviewing these unspeakable productions."

"Considering these evils, I hereby promise to remain away from all motion pictures except those which do not offend decency and Christian morality. I promise further to secure as many members as possible for the Legion of Decency."

"I make this protest in a spirit of self-respect, and with the conviction that the American public does not demand filthy pictures."

Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana, Elliott Field's play, "The House on the Sand," will be given by the Young People's dramatic guild of the Orange Presbyterian church.

This is a modern play with a strong appeal, and sets forth some of the tragic things that have happened in many homes in recent years. The play was first given at the 1933 meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Under the direction of Stella Brubaker, the play has been successfully given and well received in both Orange and Tustin. The same cast of players, to be heard in the Santa Ana Presbyterian church Sunday night, includes Kenneth Stowell, Frances Wilbur, Eldine Watson, Elizabeth Lowery, Howard Barnes, Dick Stanley, Elizabeth Welch, Lorraine Brunson and Dick Leininger.

COAST ASSOCIATIONERS and all beach residents will be interested in recent action reported by the United States district engineer, Maj. Theodore A. Wyman, Jr., in attempting to do away with oil pollution of beaches.

The engineer has requested, in a lot of big words, the opinion of the Judge-Advocate-General of the army, an opinion on the off-shore limit of U. S. jurisdiction. The Oil Pollution act gives jurisdiction only three miles offshore, but international agreements, to which this country is signatory, provide that no vessel shall dump oil-laden bilges within 50 miles of the coastline.

"We are anxious to wipe out this pollution practice, but before going ahead we intend to know exactly the limits of our laws," Maj. Wyman said, in pointing out that coast guard and other federal personnel have jurisdiction within the three-mile limit, which, everyone admits, is insufficient.

Anyway, the customs service and the coast guard and engineer corps are all working on the problem, which will make a lot of people happy who've come back from bathing with blobs of oil sticking to their feet.

We're very envious of Imperial highways who left today for the annual Christmas meeting of the association at El Centro today. Bob Hays and the rest of the gang in the Imperial valley are planning a "surprise party" for the visitors, we're told by George Kellogg, secretary of the association. They're going to visit canals and things and have a grand time.

Monday evening a group of menfolk in Placentia is planning a banquet for the Valencia High school football team.

Looks like I'll have to go—every second person I've met on the street shoves a fistful of tickets under my nose, with instructions to buy, or else.

Sort of followed fortunes of that team, due to interest of watching a new school start out, and its growing pains, or whatever they are. The first year they didn't even try to have a regular organization, but the second, under Clarence Bishop, they did surprisingly well. And this past year they did better. "Bish" is a good coach, and he's popular.

Last year they packed the clubhouse and even turned folks away, so they've moved to the Legion hall for this, and everyone's invited. Last year it was for men only, but wives are invited this time, and so a much bigger crowd is expected.

The turkey dinner sounds too good to miss.

Jack McDonald, Placentia hinge and hoe merchant, was talking about Christmas presents.

"I'm going to buy my wife a white picket fence," he said. "Sounded sorta funny, until we learned that Jack has a new house, and the fence'll go around the house. The missus is going to give him a chair or a cupboard or something, he confessed.

Jack also mentioned a friend who gave his wife a shotgun for Christmas last year. She retaliated by giving him a kitchen mixing set, he claimed. Which gives me ideas about Yuletide offerings this year.

Clean-Up Day

Horses, Horses Another Chapter
SATURDAY is always clean-up day in the sports department but this week's end finds our note-book containing only a few observations that we haven't passed on to you.

Here's one that says "horse racing." That was to remind you to remind you that we're anxious to find out how well Santa Anans like their horse racing. And how much coverage they want in The Journal.

From a steady examination of the reader interest in the turf subject here, we feel safe in saying that The Journal should cover the sport with a blanket; entries, selections, results and comment.

If you don't agree with this and would rather have something else on the sport page after the Santa Anita season opens Christmas day, just stand up and holler. But you'd better get busy because a stack of readers have advised us they will be looking for this page to keep abreast of the sport with complete coverage.

We've got a lot of marks on the wall for those who do want horse racing coverage and none at all for those who don't. However, we shan't be surprised if the vote is unanimously "yes."

As the shadows fall over the most hectic junior college grid year in history, one final death-knell chapter is added to the Western conference's nasty mess. The league, beset with ineptitudes that saw its three leading teams forfeit their title-chances and hand the torch to Ventura, gets a final laugh.

Ventura almost turned up a ringer. That is a grim joke on the Pirates because today they were playing the Riverside Bengals for the Southern California championship. It is of interest here because the man in question is a former Fullerton Junior college player.

The news broke this morning and "Massa Tom" Hennion, sports editor of the Ventura County Star, came through with all the dirt for this department.

Here is the sad story that rings in the ears of the Pirates as they go title-hunting today: "Charles 'Chuck' August, star tackle of the 1935 Ventura Junior college football team, has been dropped from the team following an investigation of his previous scholastic record.

"This bombshell burst out of a clear sky one day before the Pirates met Riverside jaycee for the Southern California Junior college championship.

"The investigation, prompted by a letter from W. T. Boyce, vice principal of Fullerton Junior college to John L. Lounsbury, Long Beach jaycee principal, revealed that August had played football and attended Fullerton Junior college for one semester. The evidence was immediately forwarded to James Patrick O'Mara, athletic commissioner of the western division of the conference, who ruled that August was not technically ineligible and that the Pirates be allowed to play in the championship game.

"It was the second bad scare for the Pirates, champions of the western division, during the past week. Early this week, conference watchdogs declared that Maurice 'Tex' Magness had played football at a Texas college and therefore was ineligible. Investigation by local and conference officials, however, revealed that Magness had graduated from Breckenridge, Texas, high school in May, 1934, and had not attended any other college than the local institution since that time.

"Had either August or Magness been ruled ineligible, Ventura would have been forced to forfeit the league championship to Long Beach.

"According to D. R. Henry, principal of the Ventura Junior college, August was ruled eligible because the evidence secured revealed that he had passed in 13 units of work at Fullerton and that he was not subject to the transfer rule inasmuch as Whittier, his legal residence, then and now, is outside of a junior college district.

"Regarding the dropping of August from the team, Henry stated, 'His concealment of his attendance at Fullerton and his participation in athletics at that school was a clear violation of the spirit of athletic regulations and the ethics governing the relations between schools. For this offense we are, as an immediate

THE RING-WISE said Joe Louis chose Pompton Lakes, N. However, the Bomber made no loud protest when the Uzcudun fight was scheduled for Friday the 13th of December.

DEPAUW'S RECORD

DEPAUW UNIVERSITY has made quite a gridiron record under the tutelage of Coach Gaumy Neal. The Greencastle (Ind.) Tigers won 22 of their last 25 games in the 6-year Neal regime. In 1935 they won six, tied Wabash and lost to Georgetown.

WESTWOOD CUBS WIN PRO GAME, 35-20

There's Larry Lutz Again! All America Honors For Local Boy!

All-America football teams are plentiful these days, but few have the prestige of that picked annually by Alan Gould, Associated Press sports editor, in collaboration with leading sports scribes and coaches of the country. The Associated Press team, announced today and pictured here, has one Santa Ana boy, Lawrence H. Lutz, giant tackle for the University of California. Lutz played this week was named to the Associated Press all-coast eleven and has been chosen on nearly every honor team selection in the country. Other All-American members are Riley Smith, Alabama; Jay Berwanger, Chicago; Darrell Lester, Texas Christian; Bobby Wilson, Southern Methodist; Richard Smith, Minnesota; Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State; John Weller, Princeton; Bill Shuler, Army; and Paul Tangora, Northwestern.

H. B. ELEVEN WINS TITLE AT COLTON

Huntington Beach High school's minor division football team, Orange County Prep league champion, coached by Leon W. Miner, won the C. I. F. southern division title with a 13-0 triumph at Colton yesterday. Colton holds the title of the Tri-County league.

Nagamatsu, Japanese full-back, scored both touchdowns, and converted the first one. He teamed with Duke, quarter; Kato and Morse, halves; Capt. Teague and Lawhead, ends; Thomas and Robertson, tackles; Caigneau and Gonzales, guards; and Kawaguchi, center.

Glendale, ex-Coast league now free-lancing, won the Southern California lightweight championship with a 6-0 victory over Montebello in the Pasadena Rose bowl.

Pasadena Muir-Tech and Montebello hooked up today in the varsity semi-finals, the winner to play the survivor of today's Santa Barbara-San Luis Obispo game for the Southern California championship in the Rose bowl a week from today.

BRONC PASSES FIVE DON GRIDDERS SCORE Chosen on J. C. Honor Team

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 7. (AP)—Coach Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill, Stanford, here to scout the Southern Methodist-Texas game today, says, "The Lord only knows what will happen" when his Indians face the Methodists in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

"I've got a strong team, one that the opposition has experienced trouble in scoring on this season," said the Stanford mentor, "but the Lord only knows what will happen if the Methodists start throwing the ball through our beautiful California sunshine and sky as they tossed it against U. C. L. A."

The Methodists, featuring their aerial attack, defeated U. C. L. A. 21-0 Armistice day at Los Angeles.

Recognition was gained by five Santa Ana Don football celebrities today as the result of a poll conducted among coaches and sports writers of the Eastern Junior college conference.

Two of the Dons landed on the first eleven, three on the second. Art Craft, rugged running guard, an Orange boy who has another year of eligibility here; and Wait Hickman, stellar inside halfback, were the Santa Ana recipients of the conference's highest honors. Sophomore Hickman, one of the most dependable gridirers ever to come out of Garden Grove, also landed on the first eleven last fall.

Al Titenor, Santa Ana; John Lehnhardt, Garden Grove; and Bob Spray, Tustin, were other Dons honored. All made the second team—no hollow honor consideration by the seven colleges this season.

Spray, adept at intercepting forward passes, and steady on offense, missed three games—Pomona, Citrus and Chaffey—because of injuries. Otherwise he would have been a certain first-string selection as indicated in other performances. Jesse Mortensen, coach of Riverside's champions, named the Tustin boy on his all-opponents' team.

Lehnhardt, an excellent blocker and a good ball-carrier, was perhaps as valuable to the club as Hickman, but he was crowded off the first string by such outstanding men as Merle Harris of Riverside, Jim Montgomery of Citrus and Pelky Cox of San Bernardino. Harris reeled off tremendous yardage for the champion Bengals; Montgomery was the league's touchdown king with 51 points; Cox, an all-around back, was the very spark of a classy San Bernardino outfit that should have finished in the upper division.

Bill Grieschner, like Spray, was handicapped by injuries, and missed recognition which he probably will earn at end next autumn through his sensational pass-snatching. Titenor, freshman, played a steady brand of ball during the season.

The complete selections:

TROY-U.C.L.A. WILL CLASH IN 1936

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7. (AP)—University of California at Los Angeles and Southern California will renew grid relations next fall.

The statement leading to this announcement came from Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid at a Trojan football rally here late last night and was followed by word from Willis O. Hunter, athletic director of Southern California, that the game probably would be played Thanksgiving day.

Set Date Soon

U. C. L. A. athletic officials promptly confirmed the fact that differences between the cross-town institutions had been ironed out. The exact date of the 1936 contest will be announced at the Pacific Coast conference meeting in San Francisco early next week. The official announcement came as no surprise, since responsible sources revealed Nov. 19 that the intra-city contest, abruptly ended after the 1929 struggle, would be renewed either in 1936 or 1937.

Dr. von KleinSmid broke the news cautiously at a Trojan home-coming banquet last night and it was greeted by wild applause.

'Foundation Laid'

"We of Southern California," he said, "in the spirit of honor and sportsmanship, are now willing to play any institution in the Southwest. Let it be as near as it may be far. The foundation has been laid for competitive engagement with the University of California at Los Angeles."

Dean Earl J. Miller, a guest at the banquet, responded in behalf of U. C. L. A. with the remark that it was with a "feeling of elation and happiness which all folks at U. C. L. A. receive this announcement."

The Bruins' school has sought a renewal of grid combat with Southern California since a squabble over the schedule kindled animosity after the 1929 struggle.

U. C. L. A. athletic officials announced yesterday they were keeping a date on their schedule open for Southern Methodist at Dallas in 1936, and that either Washington or Washington State or both also would be played.

Keep Date Open

Besides these games, the Bruins have agreements with Stanford and California and they probably will play one of the two Oregon union met today to debate the question of American participation in the 1936 Olympic games, scheduled to be held in Nazi Germany.

The A. A. U. executive committee, after arriving at a stalemate yesterday over a stringently worded resolution opposing participation, voted 10 to 5 to refer the resolution to the convention today "without recommendation."

Texas Teams In Spotlight On Gridiron

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—The battles of the bowlers—Southern Methodist and Texas Christian—took precedence today in what was left of the 1935 football season.

The S. M. U. Mustangs, bound for the Rose Bowl game against Stanford, wound up their regular season against a strong Southwest conference rival, Texas A. & M., hoping to keep their record clear of defeat.

Play Broncos

Texas Christian, the Sugar Bowl entry which has lost only to Southern Methodist, offered something of a preview of the New Year's game at Pasadena in an encounter with Santa Clara.

Other scattered games on the Western and Southern fronts included Southern California vs. Washington, Florida vs. South Carolina, the annual Maryland-Western Maryland encounter, and a meeting between Texas Tech and Oklahoma City.

No Clinch Game

A record of 11 consecutive victories made Southern Methodist a strong favorite for today's wind-up encounter but did not expect a pushover. The Aggies, after a weak start, developed into one of the strong Southwest conference teams, trouncing Texas handily Thanksgiving day.

MIDGETS CLASH

'SO RED THE ROSE' OPENS HERE

WEST COAST HAS CIVIL WAR FILM

"So Red the Rose," Stark Young's novel of the South before and after the Civil war, dramatized for the screen, comes to the screen of the West Coast theater today with Margaret Sullivan, Randolph Scott and Walter Connolly starred. A second feature on the double bill is "Millions in the Air."

As in the novel, "So Red the Rose" in moving picture form deals with a proud Southern family, rich in tradition and accomplishment, which responds to the call to arms when war sears the country.

"So Red the Rose" has many interesting backgrounds. The historic battle of Shiloh is re-enacted. Although the war plays an important part in the story's development, the picture is by no means merely a war picture, showing rather the effects of such a conflict on the lives of men and women, especially how it affects one romance.

The mechanics as well as the spirit of radio amateur programs comes in for some good-natured spoofing in "Millions in the Air." Most of the action in the film takes place in a radio studio, and the villain of the story is "Ol' Debbil Cong," the clanging of this object or its silence, knits together an entertaining series of events, including a romance between Wendy Barrie and John Howard. The cast includes Eleanor Powell, described as the fastest dancer in the world, Harry Semels, Halliwell Hobbes and Dave Chasen.

Short subjects include a Magic Carpet travelogue, "Argentine Argosy" and World News events.

WESTERN MOVIE DUE THURSDAY

The western outdoor romance drama receives re-glification in Zane Grey's latest film, "Wanderer of the Westland," which will open at the West Coast theater next Thursday, with a second feature, "Feather in Her Hat."

With Dean Jagger and Gail Patrick in the leading roles, the newest adventure tale to come from Zane Grey's pen combines all the thrills, action and picturesque background for which the author is famous. Daredevil horsemanship, in the great open spaces, hair-raising climaxes and thrilling romance feature the film.

An exceptional cast will be seen in the picture of I. A. Wylie's famous love story, "A Feather in Her Hat." Pauline Lord, Basil Rathbone, Louis Hayward, Billie Burke, Wendy Barrie, Victor Varconi and many others are featured in the film, which has its locale in London.

READER WRITES ABOUT WATER

Editor, The Journal: The writer receives a great "kick" out of the "questions and answers" relative to the bond election contained in The Journal on Dec. 3.

As a matter of fact, my dear sir, some were so far from actual fact that the writer is convinced that you have been out of the 100 percent for the best interests of the majority—your recent fine editorials would convince anyone of that.

But let us consider question 17: "How long will water be held behind the Prado dam?" Your answer is: "Only as long as is necessary to control and release it, if absorption." Upon reading that, answer the average citizen would believe that it could be held for months.

As a matter of fact the PERMANENT OPENING in the Prado dam releases 800 second feet of water as long as there is any water in the dam, and 40 (FORTY) will completely empty this dam. The engineers will not consider a plan to let this water settle and be conveyed in conduits to wells drilled through the two hard clay strata that underlie the entire river bed from the ocean to the Olive-Anaheim bridge on the Santa Ana river.

The proponents claim that they can sink underground 97 per cent of the discharge from the dam while this water is heavily charged with silt; they propose to obtain land for this purpose. They do not tell us how long it will take to silt up this gravel spreading ground and have it become worthless for the purpose of sinking flood water.

The writer is one of those "not informed citizens" who is working to defeat this huge outlay of public money. After spending 52 years in Orange county one may not be informed, but I am asking for this information: Question: If 97 per cent of flood water can be saved by absorption above the Olive bridge why spend thousands of dollars in building levees below said bridge? Try that one on your linotype, Mr. Editor.

You state that no other plan has been presented. As a matter of fact three years ago the writer appeared before our supervisors—two of the present board were present—and demanded that arti-

'Annie Oakley' Comes to Town

Barbara Stanwyck, shown here with Chief Thunderbird, is starred in the title role of "Annie Oakley," dramatization of the famous marksman's career as Buffalo Bill's star in his arena spectacle, which opens at the Broadway theater tomorrow with a second attraction, "A $1000 a Minute," comedy featuring Roger Pryor and Leila Hyams.

NEW CHARLIE CHAN MOVIE COMING HERE THURSDAY

With an unusually attractive double feature bill on the program, the Broadway theater will present the new Charlie Chan mystery film, "Charlie Chan's Secret," different from its immediate predecessors, and "The Perfect Gentleman," English comedy, starting next Thursday, Manager Lester J. Fountain announced today.

While "Charlie Chan's Secret," a ficial gravel drains underneath our river bed to be made to discharge water into wells bored through the two heavy clay structures that lay below the stream bed. I was told that there was no available funds to give this suggestion a trial.

Since that time many thousands of dollars of taxpayers' money has been spent on high priced engineering data; thousands of dollars have been spent in building the Ortega road—as useless a proposition as could possibly be conceived, by the way.

Yes, there has been a plan submitted—but it came from a long-legged farmer. I thank you.

LICENSE PLATES GO VIVID But Calif. Keeps Old Colors

Every color in the spectrum will appear on the 1936 motor vehicle license plates in the United States.

Many states will display vivid contrasts on the tags, but California will again reverse its colors from orange to black to black on orange field. Colors of number plates for next year throughout the country and in American territories are listed by the Automobile Club of Southern California as follows:

Alabama, crimson figures on white; Arizona, black on copper; Arkansas, blue on black; Colorado, Iowa, New Mexico, Ohio, Vermont, and Washington, blue on white; Connecticut and Delaware, gold on blue; Florida, white on red; Georgia and Virginia, orange on blue; Idaho, Kansas and Oklahoma, black on yellow; Indiana, cream on crimson; Kentucky and Nebraska, aluminum on black; Louisiana, blue on olive.

BUFFALO BILL FILM OPENS TOMORROW

The days of Buffalo Bill, Sitting Bull and Ned Buntline—days of super-showmanship which the citadels of American entertainment have rarely seen since, are dramatized in all their stirring romance and red-blooded action in "Annie Oakley," starring Barbara Stanwyck, which opens tomorrow at the Broadway theater with a second feature, "A $1000 a Minute."

The story of "Annie Oakley" is true in historical setting, telling of the young and beautiful country girl who shot quail for a living, later joining the Buffalo Bill Wild West show to defeat every man who challenged her and became the most deadly rifle shot in the world.

The supporting cast includes Preston Foster, Melvyn Douglas, Moroni Olsen, Pert Kelton and Andy Clyde.

"A $1000 a Minute" is based on Everett Freeman's magazine story which had the whole country laughing. The cast is headed by Roger Pryor and Leila Hyams and includes Edgar Kennedy, Sterling Holloway, Herman Bing, Franklin Pangborn, Arthur Hoyt, Russell Hicks, Claude King and others. The story deals with a newspaper reporter who is thrown into a strange situation whereby he has to dispose of a thousand dollars a minute for 12 consecutive hours.

Short subjects include a color cartoon, "Alias St. Nick," and World News events.

'MUSKETEERS' ENDS TONIGHT

Theatergoers of Santa Ana and vicinity will have the last opportunity tonight to see "The Three Musketeers," screen version of Dumas' novel of the same name, when it shows for the last time at the Broadway theater with a second feature, "Navy Wife."

In "The Three Musketeers," d'Artagnan swaggers to the talking screen in a performance by the Broadway actor, Walter Abel. Impressive performances are given by Paul Lukas, Moroni Olsen and Onslow Stevens. The feminine trio that inspires the intrigue, sword play and romance is comprised of Heather Angel, Margot Grahame and Rosamond Pinchoff.

A gripping love story is told in "Navy Wife," featuring Claire Trevor and Ralph Bellamy.

'RENDEZVOUS' OPENS HERE ON DEC. 15

The thrilling new film "Rendezvous," featuring William Powell, Rosalind Russell, Binnie Barnes and Lionel Atwill, will open at the Broadway theater Sunday, Dec. 15.

"Rendezvous" is a swift-moving, dramatic spy story with a light surface comedy wherein an innocuous debutante, determined to get her man, interferes repeatedly with the dangerous work of Uncle Sam's most expert code-decoder.

SILVIA SIDNEY'S FILM COMING

Announcement of the booking of two new films to show at the Broadway theater soon was made today by Manager Lester J. Fountain.

"Mary Burns, Fugitive," starring Sylvia Sydney and Alan Baxter, will open Dec. 19.

Shirley Temple's newest film, "The Littlest Rebel," will start at the Broadway theater Christmas day.

Jolo, capital of the Sulu province of the Philippines, is the chief center of the pearling fleet of that region.

Radio Roundup

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By HOMER CANFIELD

THE SOUTHLAND NOW HAS two broadcasting studios that may be favorably compared with any the world over—KNX, opened last summer, and the National Broadcasting Co.'s new unit, 5515 Melrose avenue, Hollywood, which is being dedicated tonight. A two-and-a-half-hour parade of stars, the like of which hasn't been heard on the air for some time, will file by your loudspeaker, starting at 7:30, KFI.

The event is important to radio, a mere whisper of what is to come. A few years will more than likely see EVENT in this new plant, which we rightly consider the very last word, replaced by an even more elaborate setup. For the industry is making tremendous strides, both technically and in a business way. Each step brings it closer to Hollywood. The movies and radio have developed more than a nodding acquaintance.

The Columbia Broadcasting system, according to all traditions of business rivalry, should follow NBC's lead. But this is not to be expected, according to Paul Rickenbacker, the network's west coast representative. Rumors of such a move are without foundation. However, time will tell.

The following performers are listed for the program: Al Jolson, Clark Gable, May Robson, Preston Foster, Melvyn Douglas, Moroni Olsen, Pert Kelton and Andy Clyde. The supporting cast includes Roger Pryor and Leila Hyams and includes Edgar Kennedy, Sterling Holloway, Herman Bing, Franklin Pangborn, Arthur Hoyt, Russell Hicks, Claude King and others. The story deals with a newspaper reporter who is thrown into a strange situation whereby he has to dispose of a thousand dollars a minute for 12 consecutive hours.

Short subjects include a color cartoon, "Alias St. Nick," and World News events.

From Jimmy Durante and John Charles Thomas will join the broadcast from New York; Rudy Vallee's music will be picked up from Pittsburgh, James Melton will be found in Baltimore and Ruth Etting will sing from Honolulu.

DENIES AGITATED AMONG WORKERS

Charles McLaughlin, sometimes referred to as "Orange county's No. 1 Communist," told The Journal today that he was fired last Monday from the Santiago Creek parkway Works Progress administration project for insubordination, as was published in The Journal last Tuesday, but he denied that he had been reading communistic literature to fellow workers during working hours as was charged at WPA headquarters. He also said that he had been warned but once, and not several times, as was charged, against agitation among workers.

McLaughlin said he has been put back to work again by WPA Administrator Dan Mulhern, this time on the Delhi storm drain job.

MORE ABOUT TENSION

Participants in the movement to block American participation in the Olympic games have polioed American sport," he said. "Regardless of the convention's action we'll send a full team to Germany. With the cooperation of the athletes themselves we can raise the money. Some of the teams already have raised their own funds."

Brundage said failure of the convention to ratify American participation would result in collapse of the A. A. U. "Eighty per cent of the A. A. U. athletes are college boys, or ex-collegians and they won't tolerate this kind of business." Others, however, say they believed that if the convention voted against participation, it would touch off a wave of opposition that might win enough support from public opinion to result in withdrawal of the United States from the Berlin games.

ULTIMATUM DEMANDS JAPAN NAVAL PARITY WITH U.S., ENGLAND

DEADLOCK IS THREATENED AT PARLEY

Nippon Delegation Says Requests Must Be Met First at Meeting

LONDON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The Japanese delegation to the forthcoming international naval conference advised the British admiralty today that Japan demands naval parity with the United States and Great Britain in reality and not merely in name.

Further, the Japanese told the British that no other questions can be discussed at the parley opening next Monday until Japan's demands for parity are met.

This viewpoint was expressed to experts in the admiralty at a conference at which the Japanese were represented by Admiral Osami Nagano, Matsuzo Nagai, Rear Admiral Tawashita, and Taro Tarasaki, the secretary of the Japanese delegation.

This means that the Japanese are standing solidly for a navy equal in size and strength to that of Great Britain and the United States, the stand which wrecked the long preliminary bilateral conversations early this year and led to Japanese denunciation of the Washington and London naval treaties.

Today's conference was arranged at the request of the Japanese in order that they might officially advise the British of their stand.

SUIT SEEKS TO SETTLE CLAIM AGAINST BANK

Settlement of a portion of their claim against the defunct First National Bank of Anaheim and certification for settlement of the remainder of the debt is sought in a suit started yesterday in superior court by Sophie Rimpau and James A. Rimpau against the bank and J. V. Hogan as receiver for the institution.

The complaint alleges that Mrs. Rimpau and the late Fred Rimpau were shareholders in the bank on June 15, 1931, when a depreciation existed in the bond account. They, along with other shareholders, agreed to purchase the depreciation, advancing $3675 with the understanding that the bank would return the money as the depreciation was reduced.

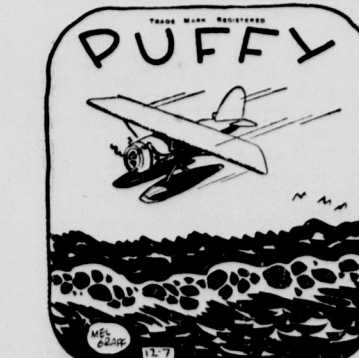

When the bank was declared insolvent in 1934, according to the complaint, no reduction has been made in the amount due the shareholders. Later, a first dividend of 32 per cent was paid on certain claims, but nothing to the shareholders of the depreciation. The suit asks that the court order a 32 per cent payment on the claim immediately and certify the balance to the United States controller of currency, to be paid in the due course of administering the receivership.

HERE'S HOW TO GET THAT AUTO LICENSE FOR 1936

What the new tax which must be paid during January auto license renewal time represents, how much it will be, and what procedure must be followed are puzzling many motorists.

Although you recently may have paid your 1935 county automobile personal property tax, the new motor vehicle license tax for 1936, which will replace the county property tax for next year, is due and payable when and before you obtain new license plates in January.

Details of this and other requirements are told in a statement issued today by the Automobile Club of Southern California license department. Facts given follow:

Tax and License

The license tax of $1.75 per $100 valuation of the vehicle must be paid in addition to the regular $3 registration fee on the pleasure cars. This must be paid at application time during January in cash at department of motor vehicle offices, or by cash or check at Auto Club of Southern California offices. The latter will serve only members and motorists from other states.

Certificates of registration must be stamped on the back by the tax assessor's office, or cleared by the state department of motor vehicles, as required in certain cases, before licenses can be issued.

The motor vehicle department this month is mailing a postcard to every registered owner giving the valuation of his car model, and the amount of the tax, when that is possible. Valuations have been determined from various ratings by the motor vehicle department. If a postcard is not received, or the amount of the tax not given, application should be made anyway within a short time after Jan. 2.

Should Note Model

Before applying, the motorist should note the exact factory model of his car. This is not shown on the registration slip and does not mean year model or body type, but appears on insurance policies, the bill of sale, often on a car nameplate, or in the instruction book for the car. Valuations are based on factory model. Examples are Buick 1932, Model 50, Model 60, Model 80, or Model 90; Nash 1934 Big 6, Advanced 8, or Ambassador 8; Packard 1935, Model 100, or Model 120; Ford 1935, Model 18, or Model 20; or any other model.

The renewal period and license tax "deadline" is definitely set as provided by law at midnight Jan. 30. After that time a penalty of 100 per cent of the amount of the motor vehicle license tax will be imposed. This means double the license tax based on the value of the car, and is a stiffer penalty than in the past. Motorists are therefore advised to apply as early as possible after Jan. 1, to avoid confusion and delay toward the end of the period.

Santa Claus In Denver Is Given Traffic Ticket

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 7. (AP)—Santa Claus got a traffic ticket yesterday.

CRASH DAMAGES SOUGHT IN SUIT

OIL INQUIRY MAY BEGIN MONDAY

Subpoenas Believed to Be Issued By Grand Jury for Witnesses

With a petition before them demanding investigation of charges by Supervisor N. E. West that the Huntington Beach tidelands situation had developed into a scandal comparable to Teapot Dome, the grand jury is believed to have issued subpoenas for several potential witnesses.

It was indicated here today that the jurors will take up investigation of Supervisor West's charges when that body convenes Monday.

Refer To Legislation

The charges were hurled by the county official in connection with legislation adopted in Sacramento permitting whiptock drilling of the tidelands oil pool and refusal to approve a measure that would have permitted island drilling.

Returning from Sacramento where he had gone in the interests of the island drilling proposal, Mr. West made statements to the effect that several senators and assemblymen had admitted to him that they were controlled by "big business."

He also charged Senator Nelson T. Edwards, of Orange, with dodging a vote on the island drilling bill when the measure came up and was defeated.

Many May Be Called

It has been indicated that the list of witnesses to be called before the grand jury in the probe of Mr. West's charges will include Senator Edwards, Speaker Ted Craig of the assembly, and Assemblyman James B. Utt, Mayor Tom Teet of Huntington Beach and several other residents of the beach city who are active in the oil business.

Mr. West, it is understood, will be asked to tell just what he meant by the "Teapot Dome" charges and present proof that unlawful acts were committed in connection with the oil legislation.

MAILING HINTS GIVEN AT P.O.

"Mail early—wrap securely—address plainly."

This is the motto adopted by postoffices throughout the country for the Christmas season.

Assistant Postmaster Fluke Smith today presented the statement of the motto in urging Santa Anans to get their Christmas cards and parcels in the mails as soon as possible. So far, he said, there has been very little Christmas mail sent through the local office. Most of the Christmas parcels and cards handled during the past few days have been addressed to foreign countries. Very few of them were addressed to places in the United States.

The usual pre-Christmas sale of stamps has started. Most of them are of the one cent and one and one-half cent variety. One other item which has helped swell the amount of mail handled this month is the flood of sample ballots sent out for the coming water bond election.

SPANISH SUPPER GIVEN IN CHURCH

Musical features at the annual Spanish supper given Thursday at the First Methodist church Mexican mission, First and Garfield streets, made this year's event an exceptional program.

Ex-Gonzales member of the Mexican church, arranged the numbers and directed the orchestra. Harp selections were presented by the Rev. C. E. Ballesteros of Douglas, Ariz. The Grandados boys' trio and other young people of the mission sang. Violin solos were given by Miss George Belle Walton, accompanied by Miss Bonnie May Wallace.

The Rev. John C. Palacios, pastor of the mission, gave a brief resume of the year's work.

TO FORM WOMEN'S SAXOPHONE SEXTET

Santa Ana soon may be known as the only city in this vicinity with a women's saxophone sextet. Believing that such a group would be a worth while and interesting addition to the city's musical life, W. G. Axworthy, 1125 South Main street, said today he is organizing the sextet.

Mr. Axworthy, who is the director and organizer of the Orange county students' orchestra, said several women already have joined the group and that there is room for several more. If enough women join, the organization may grow into a regular orchestra, he said.

Those who wish to join may get in touch with Mr. Axworthy at his home.

Soviets Restore Parental Duty

Soviet babies romp in a Moscow nursery blissfully unconscious that new decrees make their parents responsible for their training in behavior and for their attendance at school. Under the old system children were wards of the state from birth.

Babies No Longer Are Charges of State Under New Order

By JOHN LLOYD

MOSCOW, Dec. 7. (AP)—Early ideas of reconstructing society around the state at the expense of the family are being cast aside in the Soviet Union.

Under the old system parents, after bringing children into the world, were to be left free of the main responsibilities of their care so they could devote themselves to other duties.

Soviet authorities contend that an exaggerated idea of this experiment gained circulation abroad. They do not, however, deny that energetic measures have become necessary to make the family the institution they now want it to be. A whole series of regulations have been enacted recently with this purpose in mind.

Pays for Stonethrowing

Parents have been given to understand that they must look to their children's education, must answer for their conduct and cannot escape duties of maintenance. If a child throws a stone through a neighbor's window his parents must pay for repairs and also may be subject to fine. Children who shirk school place their parents in a similarly embarrassing position.

One of the most revolutionary of Soviet revamping measures, placed in effect only a few weeks ago, changed the divorce system.

Divorce Notice Installed

In the past either party to a marriage could obtain a divorce by going to a neighborhood registry office and making known his intentions. The divorce was registered, then the other party was notified that the bonds had been severed.

Divorce still can be obtained by either party, regardless of the opinion of the other, but now the other party must first be notified. If the two appear at the registry office together and say there is agreement on alimony and maintenance of children, the divorce is a matter of only a few minutes. But in the absence of an agreement, a court decision may be required.

Advice Against Spanking

Too often, the authorities say, parents managed to evade responsibilities by obtaining divorces before attention could be drawn to them.

That would be all right, it is pointed out, if the state were taking care of the children. The state is not, so responsibility is on the shoulders of the parents. The newspapers have taken to printing educational articles on how to bring up children. One of them cautioned against spankings and advised that the youngsters be allowed to "develop their own will."

LIONS WILL BE USED TO ILLUSTRATE SUNDAY LECTURE

Lions will trek to Santa Ana tomorrow night but they'll be portly stuffed ones or harmless babies that will come via automobiles. At the Foursquare Gospel church, the Rev. Sibyl Mae Archer will give the first of a series of four illustrated sermons on "The Four Reflections of Christ." Tomorrow night at 7 o'clock she will talk on "The Lion and the Tribe of Judahs."

The lions are being brought here from Gay's lion farm in El Monte. The Rev. Archer expects that several baby lions will also be brought here.

EXTENSIVE CULTIVATION OF CITRUS LAND NOT NEEDED

Extensive cultivation of citrus acreage is not only unnecessary but in some cases harmful, it was indicated in the ninth annual summary of valencia orange production compiled by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California under the direction of Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor of Orange county.

Many orchards have reduced tillage operations from 50 to 75 per cent during the last nine years, the report showed. Experience has proved that less frequent stirring of the soil is beneficial to tilth, root development and moisture penetration, according to Mr. Wahlberg.

An indication of decreased activity along this line is illustrated by figures for the year 1926 of an average of $21.90 spent on soil cultivation, as contrasted to $10.32 for 1934.

In a survey of the 10 most profitable orchards and the 10 least profitable, the summary indicated that less was spent by the former for this item, than by the less profitable organizations.

The Cook's Own Corner

The Journal wants to give its readers at least one tasty tried-and-true recipe each day.

FRUIT CAKE

By Mrs. H. T. Jones

844 North Van Ness

Note: This recipe is 50 years old.

Ingredients: Three cups of sugar, 2 cups of butter, 3/4 cup of sweet milk, 1/2 cup of molasses, 1 cup unsweetened apple sauce, 5 cups of raisins, 4 cups of currants, 1/2 pound of flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 wine glasses of wine, 2 tablespoons of strong coffee, 1 teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon, nutmeg and allspice. Seven eggs.

Cream sugar and shortening and molasses. Add nuts and fruits to flour, sifting in spices. Mix all ingredients well together. Bake in two loaves in a slow oven until the cake begins to shrink away from the pan.

When Love Grows Cold, Don't Try To Reheat It; It Won't Taste Good

By MARY STODDARD

They were supposed to be engaged, and he doesn't come to see her any more—and he won't say what and he won't say why, and "Worried" is just that. She doesn't want to lose him, but she'd like to know what to do about it. He says, he'll come to see her—then doesn't show up.

"He knows that I have been true to him," she writes. "I stay home almost every night—and if he does find that I have been out, he always thinks I've been with another man, and he gets mad. That's the reason I stay home. I'm worried, and I don't want to lose him. But for the last month I have been going out with other men in the hopes of forgetting him. I have asked him if he wants us to break up, and he says no. What can I do?—WORRIED."

I think you've been doing the

SHE'S BUSY PLANNING RITES

Miss Helen Switzler, shown above, finds herself the midst of a whirl of social activities these days, in anticipation of her marriage to Philip Gerrard Jan. 1. She surprised friends at a novel announcement party recently when she told of her betrothal.

TEAPOT TATTLE

By ELLEN SNEBBLEY

"Twas the Night Before . . ."

Which reminds us of a time-honored version of the old Christmas jingle in which friends of "Babe" Fred Krause, Fullerton banker, changed the last line to read "Not even a Krause."

Just think of all the things smart people can make out of cellophane straws. Christmas trees, very ornamental, by folding 'em in the middle and centering 'em with gay glass balls, then arranging in tree formation with silk-covered wire . . . or clusters of colored straws in cellophane bows or packages . . . or in open house serving around the holidays—and the funny part of it all is, we're not being paid for all this publicity.

Stopped on the street corner yesterday to chat a bit with Murrel (Mrs. J. Eugene) Knox, who looked very pretty in a brown outfit . . . and confessed she's hardly begun to think of Christmas shopping . . . but her young daughter, Barbara, is already clamoring for a new doll from S. C. (not the college, the holiday donor).

Which reminds us that shopping is being done nowadays . . . which in turn brings to mind what some of our socialites want and what we think they might want for Christmas.

Your Tattle has it on good authority that Harriet Gruetner expects Santa Claus to shower her with airplane luggage to augment her trim tan brown assortment . . . while Georgia Turner, whose softly pretty new coiffure is winning her compliments after compliment, expects a sparkly ring (which doesn't mean just what you might expect it to).

And Nan and Lolita Mead are anticipating a paint job for their car as a gift from father, F. F. Mead—a practical present; but they'll undoubtedly get lots of other gifts that aren't . . . Ninette (Mrs. J. Russell) Wilson hopes to add to her sterling and mason ware, both of which are in lovely patterns.

Among local lads, Avery Johnson's yearning is for some more nautical items to furnish his new room, which is at present his big interest in life . . . we'll see snapshot judgment and guess that Harold Harvey's wishes revolve around things he can use in his hobby of photography . . . another good guess: Newell Vandermast will not want ties for Christmas!

Speaking of Dick Ewert, we wonder whether it's more important to state what he wants, or what's he's able to give some deserving little gal . . . and speaking of little wants, we happen to know that Phyllis (Mrs. Roy) Grisct does not want perfume this year.

Splash! (Because flashes are greatly overdone by columnists.) Jean and Howard Hales are expected Dec. 18 from Woodland to spend the holidays here, and lots of get-togethers are being planned for 'em.

Mystery for today: Which suave self-assured local brunette is having her annual worry as to whom to take to her sorority's Christmas dance? And whom shall she take?

A farewell party for Betty (Mrs. Robert) Guild turned into a housewarming for Henriette (Mrs. George) Walker's new home on Placencia drive yesterday, since Betty isn't leaving town after all, due to a change in business plans of husband, Bob!

Next week we intend to give you a peek at the Christmas decorations in a few homes. By the way, we have it on good authority that friend Chatterbox is deluged with contributions from the

Helen Switzler Honor Guest At Party

Miss Helen Switzler, whose wedding date to Philip Gerrard is not very far distant, was feted one evening this week at a gay shower party given by Miss Juanita Patton in the home of her mother, Mrs. E. L. Patton, 1311 South Parton street.

Tea towels were hemmed and red and white kitchen accessories were among the numerous shower gifts. Mrs. Hugh Gerrard presented with her gift for the bride-elect clever original poems.

Mrs. Gerrard and Miss Vivian Switzler won prizes in games. Mrs. Patton assisted her daughter in serving a dessert course.

Other guests were Mesdames Browning, Louis Hoff, M. J. Switzler, Jack Stickler, James Wylie, Ada Nelson, Joe Grimshaw, Charles Morgan and Harry Switzler and Misses Alice Whitten, Marjorie Hoff, Irene Grimshaw, Lois Courtney and Joy Lee Henderson.

WELFARE WORK OF NATIVE ORDERS TO BE HEAVY

Santa Claus will have an added pack for scores of children, needy folks and veterans this year through the efforts of the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West.

Scores of orphans have been placed in homes where there were no children. Baskets have been prepared for families in need of food and clothing.

Tubercular veterans' hospitals that will be sent gifts include U. S. V. B. No. 24, at Palo Alto, No. 64 at Camp Carney, No. 54 at Arrowhead Springs, No. 50 at Prescott, Ariz., and No. 51 at Tucson. Mrs. Mae West is in charge of Welfare work for the local parlor of Native Daughters.

EPISCOPAL WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

Miss Minnie Besser was named to head the officers of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah Women's auxiliary at a meeting Wednesday at the church.

Mrs. John Crawford was elected vice president; Mrs. A. H. T. Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Matthews, secretary.

Pot-luck luncheon was served at noon, following corporate communion. Experience as a medical missionary in India were related by Dr. Elizabeth Tock in her talk on "Christmas in India."

"public"—while the poor Tattle has to drag around listening at keyholes, so if you learn anything you shouldn't, please report it to The Tattle, and incur much gratitude.

Hearsay: A few Phi Sigma dropped in on the last Sigma Theta meeting, sat on the porch and told stories, and finally consented to come in and eat the leavings from the gals' dessert course . . . as we got it, Margaret Guard was largely to blame for the boys' visit.

By the way, boys and girls of the "over 18" category: Sometime ago, there was much talk of a community dance for local young people. Please don't start skipping, but hear this through: fact that they have there, with big-time dance bands and thousands of people present began in a very small way on some old tennis courts, one warm summer.

So why shouldn't Santa Ana develop a community dance? Having dodged the brickets of those who resented that last remark, we proceed. Tuesday evening in The Palms, at Third and Ross, a group of socialites will be hosts at the first community sports dance. If you want an invitation and aren't above paying a very small sum, there are some extra invitations here at The Journal office, so come and get 'em.

Since the community dance idea was in a sense an ideal of your Tattle, she hopes lots of you will get date or go alone, anyway, drop in on a few dances and give the initial dance a break and the dance committee encouragement to go on in the new project.

We hope to see you there. Jack and Tommy Croal with their mamma, Mrs. V. C. Croal, and Jeanne and Joanne Ellwanger and their mamma, Mrs. Jack Ellwanger, were "seeing Santa Claus" the other day when Tommy, who is three, greatly embarrassed that benevolent person by grabbing hold of his whiskers to pull him down, crying, "Oh, Santa, I want to give you a big kiss."

Caroline Ferrey's marriage to Herald Everett Williams, known to his friends as just "Hal," will be a gala affair of Friday, at 8:30 o'clock in Austin Presbyterian church. A reception will be given following the rites. And by the way, she and Hal make a very handsome couple.

And we'll bet lots of holiday tedium will be relieved for Sigma Theta by their five doctee pledges, Barbara Davis, Marie Lewis, Ruth Baker, Dorothy Presbly and Virginia Curry, for whom the gals have big plans.

We wonder: Whether the Country club will break precedent by not having a New Year eve dance this year. We hope not.

SHE'S NEW BRIDE

Mrs. Frank Lohr Bauer (Elizabeth Caldwell Stephens), of Orange, is a welcome addition to southern Orange county's younger married set. Her brother, Henry Stephens, is a business man in Orange, and her new sister-in-law, Miss Aural Bauer, is prominent in the Orange County Stanford Woman's club. Mrs. Bauer was married late last week in Trinity Episcopal church, Orange. She and her parents came to Orange a year ago from West Virginia.

CHURCH DINNER BRINGS OUT ARRAY OF ANTIQUES

It might have been grandpa and grandma that attended the old-fashioned dinner given by the ladies' aid of the First Christian church last night in the educational building.

Guests had all brought some antique in the family or their neighbor's and many, themselves, came decked in costumes of yesterday.

The Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan was a pompous figure in his long swallow-tails and top hat.

In the collection of old things that flanked the room was a dictionary from 1856, a Bible from 1755 and another that had been found on the field of Gettysburg, old silverware, counterpane, 110 years old.

A newspaper that had been published on wall-paper that day of the fall of Vicksburg, and an Ozard Democrat from 1880 were interesting exhibits. Dolls, a hundred years old, were on display. A mortar and pestle, used to grind grain in Kansas, and other pioneer household equipment were shown. Old photo albums sent many of the guests off into gales of laughter.

More than 200 persons attended the dinner. Presents will go to buy Christmas presents for the Old People's Home at San Gabriel.

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR ALTAR SOCIETY

Officers were elected at the meeting of St. Joseph's Altar society in the K. of P. hall Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. F. F. Mead was named president; Mrs. William Castler, first vice president; Mrs. J. A. Crawford, second vice president; Mrs. J. P. Murphy, third vice president; Mrs. Ashby Turner, secretary-treasurer; Father Timony Galvin, spiritual director.

Preceding the business meeting, the group had been served luncheon by Mrs. Clyde Ashen and Mrs. Murphy. Holly berries were used to decorate. Cards were played during the afternoon.

An electric coffee urn, presented by Miss Mary Savana, was awarded to Mrs. Murphy.

SPEECH ARTS GROUP TO MEET MONDAY

Speech arts section members of Ebbl club had to meet Monday at 11:45 o'clock in the clubhouse and then adjourn their meeting in time to attend the general club session at 2 o'clock, it was announced today.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Should children be encouraged to believe in Santa Claus?

Mrs. David H. Smith: I think, more as a fairy story. There's no disappointing children if they think of Santa Claus as a myth rather than as a person. When I taught in kindergarten, the children seemed much happier if they knew the truth than if they were deceived about Santa Claus. One little girl, for instance, couldn't see why Santa favored a boy who was bad to his mother, and left her giftless. Things like that make me favor telling the truth.

Mrs. R. L. Hedley: I believe in telling them Santa Claus is the spirit of giving. That can be explained without depriving them of the glamour of the tradition. They have no disappointment if they think of it as a spirit of love and generosity.

Mrs. H. C. Thompson: I think it's a nice belief when they're young. I remember one of my children looked in a drawer and saw the Santa mask my husband was going to wear. He told my other child, and both were quite disappointed. But I still think the belief gives them enough joy to be worth the possible disappointment later.

Carillon Trio Entertains Mus-Arts

Music filled with the rich traditions of the Russian people was first explained and then interpreted in sound by the Carillon trio at the luncheon meeting of the Musical Arts club yesterday in the James cafe.

Mary Batten Steffensen, program chairman of the club, introduced Rose Marie Flint, of the trio, who discussed "Russian Theme and Variations."

The trio, which also includes Faye Spicer and Audrey Pieper, played "Despair" (Porkalies), "Gaviz Idin" (Aran Khatchaturyan), "Poloushka," theme song of the Russian army, and "Chertza," theme song of the Russian motion picture, "Jolly Fellows." The young women wore Russian costumes.

Friday, Dec. 20, the club will have its Christmas gift exchange and a luncheon program in the cafe.

MISSIONARY GROUP FORMED AT BRETHREN CHURCH

When mothers and daughters of the Church of the Brethren gathered at the church Thursday night for their annual Christmas party they had matters of business before them as well.

Organization of a missionary group had been anticipated for several months and the Christmas party was chosen for election of officers. Mrs. Mary Stover was named president; Mrs. Bernice Hoover, vice president; and Miss Bertha Baker, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting will be held in January in conjunction with a district session.

Group singing started off the Christmas party. Miss Alberta Hoover gave a missionary reading and Mrs. Stover, a missionary to India 40 years ago, told of her experiences there. Pictures she had taken illustrated her talk.

A gift exchange and serving of refreshments concluded the meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter C. Dunlap, Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. Arlie Baker.

Mothers and daughters will gather again in February.

LEGION AUXILIARY JUNIORS TO HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Legion auxiliary juniors will frolic at a Christmas party Wednesday evening, Dec. 18, at the home of Phyllis and Mary Ann Sandon, 1410 West Washington street, they decided at their meeting Thursday in Veterans hall.

Each girl is to bring a 10-cent gift. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. R. H. Sandon at 1916-W by Monday, Dec. 16.

The group dressed dolls and made sacks for Christmas candy Thursday.

Four new members who were admitted included Mildred Marie and Mary Helen Peddy, Yvonne Sackerson and Patricia Swanner. Lorraine Todd and Lois Jean and Joyce Luke were guests.

Mrs. D. M. Jellis, assisted by Mrs. Casteix and Mrs. Sandon, served refreshments.

ST. JOSEPH'S P.T.A. PLANS LUNCHEON

St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher association will entertain at a commercial benefit luncheon next Monday noon at 12:30 o'clock in the K. of P. hall.

Mrs. Clyde Ashen is in charge of arrangements. Her assistants will include Mesdames P. C. Diegel, J. P. Murphy, George Ravenkamp, Howard Curran and Clyde Taylor.

Contract and auction bridge will be played following the luncheon under direction of the president, Mrs. Ethelbert Johnson.

Tickets are being sold by Mrs. R. H. Sandon.

IMPROMPTU TEA GIVEN TO HONOR INDIANA GUEST

A group of her friends assembled very informally yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles W. Druitt on West Santa Clara, when she gave an impromptu tea complimenting Mrs. Howard H. Harris of Richmond, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris are houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Druitt, and with whom they were formerly friends in Indiana.

Mrs. W. O. Mendenhall, whose husband is the president of Whitier college, also was feted at the tea.

Knitwear fashion show progresses

Plans are booming along for the knitwear fashion show and bridge game which Junior Ebbl travel and home economics sections will sponsor Wednesday afternoon in Ebbl clubhouse.

Mrs. Edwin Clarke, general chairman, said today.

The show will start at 4 o'clock, and the bridge play at 2 o'clock. Ebbls and their friends are being invited.

CHRISTMAS MOTIF USED AT PARTY OF ELKS' WIVES

Santa Claus with his reindeer decorated the tea table at the Friday bridge party of Elks' wives yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse.

Red candles were used throughout the room and on the table. Coffee and mince pie were served.

Those who poured were Mrs. Charles Cozan, Mrs. Harvey Gardner and Mrs. Tom Fleisher.

Hostesses were Mrs. Luke Miller, Mrs. Earl Lentz, Mrs. William Garvin and Mrs. Ben Osterman.

Prizes in contract went to Mrs. Ralph Barker and Mrs. O. A. Jacobs. Auction awards were presented to Mrs. A. H. Jamieson and Mrs. Eugene Robinson. Mrs. Roy King was presented the special award.

So as not to conflict with New Year's day festivities, the next meeting will be held the second Friday of the month, Jan. 10.

JEFFERSON P.T.A. LEADERS TO MEET

Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock is set as the date of the meeting of the Jefferson Parent-Teacher association board at the school.

The executive board will convene at 1:45 before the meeting.

To Jean Harlow:

I see by the papers that you are going to raise pineapples on the island of Oahu. Forbidden fruit? COL. V. ORANGE.

To Seal Beach:

Mighty glad to hear you are ridding yourself of some of the old and unsightly buildings which have made your otherwise pretty city unattractive. Also that extensive improvements are to be made. While it won't be quite Seal Beach without the old skeleton which used to be a roller coaster, it certainly has served its purpose and the sooner it is torn down the better. COL. V. ORANGE.

To Bowers Memorial Museum:

I was pleased to learn yesterday that your doors soon are to be opened to the public after all these years of neglect. Permit me to congratulate your board on the success of their long efforts to make the institution what its founders hoped for—a great educational center largely devoted to the display of objects typical of the history of Orange county and Southern California. COL. V. ORANGE.

To the Orange County Farm Bureau:

It was with no little satisfaction that I read of your purpose to appeal to Frances Perkins to use her influence to retain inspectors for the border patrol working out of Santa Ana. We need representatives of this branch of the immigration service here. They have proved their usefulness this year and in the past. Our citrus industry is too important to all of us to run the risk of having it disturbed by foreign agitators. COL. V. ORANGE.

To Mrs. James Irvine:

It was grand of you, when you so easily could have scrawled your signature on a check and dismissed the whole matter, to go to the trouble to organize a contract bridge club and undertake to serve luncheons twice a month in your home to 24 women of the community, to help the Ebell day nursery through the club's dues. By taking the more difficult way, you've made it possible for 36 other women to have the joy of helping support the project which gives a daytime home to children of working mothers. COL. V. ORANGE.

To Friends of J. Frank Burke:

One of your number told me today the Frank Burke appreciation dinner to be given Monday night at James cafe is to be a large affair. It must be a source of gratification to Mr. Burke to have so many loyal friends who wish properly to honor him after his several years of newspaper work in this community. Mr. Burke is a forceful character and because he edited that kind of a newspaper, he stepped on the toes of a lot of folks around here. They will not attend the dinner, but probably you'll have a good time anyhow. COL. V. ORANGE.

To District Attorney Menton:

Your announcement that you will turn the Whitney case over to your assistant, James L. Davis, to relieve you of the embarrassment of opposing your former chief, S. B. Kaufman, relieves the situation to some extent, but it does not go all the way. While Mr. Davis was not in the district attorney's office two years ago when Miss Whitney allegedly was short in her accounts the first time and when nothing was done about it, he is in your employ and he probably will not feel disposed to tread too far on thin ice. You'll be a lot happier, Bill, if you and your men let somebody else take care of the Whitney case. COL. V. ORANGE.

To S. C. Kettering, research engineer:

As a representative of a big manufacturing concern you ought to know your lesson when it comes to representing your boss. In assailing the depression you say it was just a lot of nonsense and that we always had enough to go around and that there wasn't the slightest reason for permitting poverty to exist. Some of us folks believed that years ago—right after 1929 in fact—but we had to wait until President Roosevelt made the start before we were able to get the faintest glimmer of hope that it might be realized. It seems that the automobile manufacturers had to wait for the 1934-35 upturn, too, before they got their share of "potential plenty." COL. V. ORANGE.

To the Grim Reaper:

They tell me you are out for a new record this year and that you are taking your stand at boulevard stops and other busy street intersections. I know a good place where you probably can do some business. It is at the intersection of Sixth and Main streets. It's almost a perfect set-up for you. Just stand on the corner where the Charcoal Broiler cafe is located. The city council has permitted diagonal parking on Sixth street. That makes the street so narrow there is barely room to pass. A driver coming from the west is forced to the middle of Sixth. Cars turning from Main into Sixth can barely squeeze through without colliding head on with those on Sixth. There are some other good spots, too. But you wait around that corner most any morning or evening rush hour and you'll get your man. COL. V. ORANGE.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

My wife telling me I was foolish to venture out on a slippery day without rubbers! You'd think I was 80 and ripe for the ether cone. It seems only yesterday Mary Henking and I won the graceful waltz prize at Miss Jenny Myers dancing class. Aleshire Hall—3 to 5 p. m.

On top of that I learned to walk a slack wire, hike a bike, I'm going to run through that again, hike a bike on one wheel and twirl, to say nothing of swinging off a moving bus, often bowing to a pretty girl in the quick skippy run to the curb. I should put on rubbers for a layer of sleet.

Giving way to things like that makes cowards. Begin wearing rubbers at the first slight freeze and before you know it you'll be stuffing keyholes for fear of a draft. The proper caper is to scotch such teeny-weeny fears before they mass into a full blown phobia.

On a clear, crisp day such as this, one should go forth with a conviction everything is going to be perfectly dandy, yes sir, confidence is everything. Place the feet on the sidewalk firmly, head thrown back. Those further advanced in assurance may snap their suspenders.

Sometimes, indeed, these so-called treacherous days bring out the don't-care-ness in me. See that cop over there? For two cents I'd walk up and ask him what he's getting at. No, I'll hum a tune. Something lively and chipper. Like that "Top Hat" song. Ta, ta, I'm in Heaven, dum dee dee, when we're out there dancing cheek to cheek.

But don't hum just because I do. The idea is to keep cheerful. If you prefer you can chirp. Aunt Ida often thought a chirper got more out of his chirps than a hummer his hums. But that's just a body's viewpoint. Most folk walking in sleety weather act as though they were treading egg shells. That's no way. Look! Slap the pups down like you were going to town. Left, right, left, right. I'm not even annoyed going over gratings. And watch a scout around this corner. Like a swan in graceful parabola.

Down goes a duffer across the street. And does he suggest a pretzel! One of those twiddled walkers, mincing along like a hen on a hot radiator. A little courage and he wouldn't be soaking himself in arnica for the next week. I've a notion to go over and give him a sharp talking to. But it's none of my business. I can't spend my life running around telling pedestrians how to handle themselves in a street. Anyway what happened when I spoke to that truck driver on Forty-second street for beating his horse? Well, he chased me clear through the Salmon Tower building, that's what happened.

There stands another bunch of Webster's Timid Souls afraid to walk over a slick place near the Hippodrome. Ever see such fraidy cats? If someone yelled "Boo!" they'd be scampering up lamp posts. Watch me push 'em aside and show what a brave soul does in a crisis. I'm going to get off to a flying start and slide right across. Just like we used to cross old Chicago's creek in a freeze. Here I go. Gangway hoi polloi. See you around!

A bit slicker than I thought or the wind is against me. Anyway I'm down on one knee. I know. I'll make out I'm going to sing a Mammy song. Let them giggle. I'm crossing over and they are still standing dumbly like a lot of bleating lambs in a blizzard. What if I did muss my clothes? I'd rather pay for sending a garment to the cleaner than lose self poise. What was it Addison said about self poise? "Be true to yourself." No, that's from somewhere else. You can't expect a fellow sliding across a sidewalk hell for breakfast to get a quotation exactly right. Still sniggering, are they? Well, they laughed at Napoleon. They laughed at Austerlitz. That's not right. Austerlitz wasn't a person.

As soon as I catch my breath I'll arise nonchalantly, dust myself off and the back of my hand to those scoundrels. Maybe I'd better stretch out and rest a minute. I'm not feeling so well. I have a notion my sacro-iliac, ouch, isn't exactly ooh, what it was. And that egg on the left side of my head feels as though it might have been laid by an ostrich. I hope nobody's home when they carry me in. I'd just as soon be alone awhile with my torn pants and skinned knee.

EASE TOURIST TAX
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina, by abolishing a 10 per cent tax on steamer tickets, hopes to get more visitors from North America and Europe. Tourist agencies protested when British trippers, who spent 24 hours here, were taxed $50 each for their look at Buenos Aires. That tax now applies only to persons who stay 60 days.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The big oil companies have given private intimations that they will respect Secretary Hull's request not to sell oil to Italy.

Reason: They do an international business; need state department support in Latin America, the Far East, Europe.

But the independent oil companies do not need that support. They operate only in the United States. And they have indicated to the Italian embassy that they will sell Mussolini all the oil he wants as long as he has the cash to pay for it.

LEGAL PARADOX
One of the bitterest pills government attorneys have had to swallow was the decision by the circuit court of appeals in Chicago releasing Arthur W. Cutten, big-time grain operator. He had been suspended by the government from trading.

What made the verdict hard to take was that the court agreed with the government in its contention that Cutten had violated the Grain Futures act. In fact, the court used language almost as strong as the government's in condemning his activities. It said:

"By the conclusion that Cutten, knowingly and intentionally, during the deep depression years of 1930 and 1931, when agriculture was waging a losing battle for existence on account of low and ever lower prices, violated and flouted that provision . . . which requires him as a dealer to report that fact that he was short more than 500,000 bushels."

Despite this violation, the court said it had to rule against the government's ban.

Reason for this paradox: the two-letter word "is." The court held that this word, hidden in the section relating to individual traders, barred suspensions from the wheat pit in cases of past violators of the law. As the irregularities charged against Cutten occurred several years ago, he could not be punished.

The Grain Futures act, incidentally, was passed in 1922 and has been upheld by the supreme court. The circuit court's decision served to reveal that the present requirements applies only to traders. It does not operate for grain exchanges. Any exchange is subject to punishment for past offenses.

How and why the loophole came to be inserted in the law is unknown. But indignant government lawyers say that under the court's interpretation a "district attorney would have to catch a man actually committing murder before he could be prosecuted."

(Note.—The department of agriculture plans to remedy the joker in the act by an amendment at the coming congress.)

a bright idea to Albert E. Mercker, AAA potato expert, by which his new potato stamps can solve all the country's ills.

They propose:

First, the millions of tax-exempt stamps now being issued to potato farmers, should be two feet square and gummed with mucilage made from potato starch. This would consume enough potatoes to reduce the surplus.

Second, the stamps should be stuck on by relief labor. This would not only give employment, but would also feed the workers, since in the process of licking they would get nourishment from the potato starch.

NOT IN
Postmaster General Jim Farley has just heard the inside story of why he was unable to reach big-shot Pennsylvania Democratic leaders the night of the Philadelphia mayoralty election.

Along towards midnight Jim then in New York, called up the headquarters of Democratic candidate Jack Kelly in Philadelphia and asked for Senator Joe Guffey. He wanted to get the latest returns—which from Kelly's viewpoint were anything but encouraging.

When the telephone rang, Guffey, Governor George Earle and Kelly were sitting hunched in gloomy disappointment. The henchman who answered the call yelled over to Guffey: "For you, senator. It's Mr. Farley from New York to get the latest returns."

"No, no," shouted Guffey. "Not me, I'm not here. Tell him to call George."

"No sir, not me!" cried Earle. "Not on your life. Tell him I'm in Harrisburg. You talk to him, Jack."

"Way pick on me?" demanded Kelly. "I've got plenty of troubles without that. Tell him I've gone to a Turkish bath."

(Note.—Farley finally got the returns—but from a minor ward politician.)

MERRY-GO-ROUND
Senator Bill Borah has received more than 50 invitations to make speeches. The requests come from all parts of the country. Many from Southern states. . . . Friends of New Jersey's potent Democratic political boss, Mayor Frank Hague of Newark, are touting him as a successor to Attorney General Homer Cummings—if and when he departs the cabinet. Hague's chances of getting the post are so remote as to be nil. . . . Major George Berry has no illusions about his role as a New Deal coordinator. Says Berry: "As I understand it, a coordinator is something like the innocent bystander who tried to settle a family quarrel. He was the first man shot."

Acting under the authority of the resolution put through by Senator Burton Wheeler directing it to make a national survey of food costs, the federal trade commission has decided to begin its inquiries by studying the following six staple products: wheat, cotton, beef, pork and milk. . . . As an acceptable alternative to the NRA, a number of trade associations have proposed the following plan to the U. S. chamber of commerce: The federal trade commission to be split into two agencies, one to concern itself entirely with setting up fair trade practices, the other to deal with enforcement of these rules. Twenty-Five Years Ago

DEC. 7, 1910

Mrs. George S. Smith was hostess yesterday afternoon at a pleasant meeting of the Inter Se club. The time was spent with needle work, and appetizing refreshments were served.

LOS ANGELES.—Glenn H. Curtis, the aviator who entertained thousands of Southland people with his daring in the air at the aviation meet held here last January, returned to Los Angeles yesterday and will make his home here during the winter months. He is in Southern California to conduct a series of experiments, among others the difficult feat of starting and alighting on water.

The Rev. H. E. Murkett, Theo. A. Winbiger, Elmer Curtis, and O. K. Forgy have gone to San Diego county for a duck hunt. They will be absent from their homes two or three days.

George W. Young went to Long Beach this morning to accompany his family home the latter part of this week.

SEATTLE, Wash. — Women voted for the first time yesterday in several of the smaller cities in this state and in the Duwamish district, comprising the southern extremity of Seattle and adjacent suburbs. In Anacortes and Steilacoom, where the women voted, the liquor question was the principal issue. Despite the support afforded the Prohibitionists by the women voters, the saloon forces were successful.

With much feeling he describes the domestic bliss which attended his boyhood, when on winter evenings the household of children gathered around their mother. The glowing base-burner beat back the chill of the frosty night. Mother's charming voice and interpretative understanding spread before eager minds some of the world's choicest literature. There was the American educative process at its best. And of course, my reminiscence of the household from whence radiated love and peace and large content.

Who of us does not look back to similar scenes of the long ago? What seeds of music and poetry, of love and beauty, of high romance and daring adventure, of glamorous chivalry and patriotic fervor were implanted in our fertile minds? The sonorous speeches of Burke and Webster, the stately measures of Milton and Tennyson still linger in our haunted memories. The witchery of beautiful language played hallowed mel-

MISSING HUSBAND IS SOUGHT

In a tearful letter, Mrs. Petunia J. McBlimp today appealed to this department for help in finding her husband, who disappeared from home 10 days ago and hasn't been heard from since. "Please help me find him," begged Mrs. McBlimp. "He took the only bottle opener in the house and I'm dying for a glass of beer."

And many a young fellow these days is entered in one of the hardest endurance contests there is—waiting for a friend to let him know when an opening occurs.

Remarkable Remarks

People know more than they understand. The leaders instinctively know how to arouse them. By means of propaganda the people come to believe there is a religious or cultural mission.—Dr. Alfred Adler, famed Viennese psychologist.

The new national planning . . . depends upon which few Dealer is doing the planning for the day.—Herbert Hoover.

I presume it is more of the more abundant life—for Canadians.—Herbert Hoover, referring to U. S.-Canada trade treaty.

When Bill Majors asked me what the record of George Kahn I told him it was my understanding that he was to become an understudy for the pilot of the China Clipper. Theme song: "Sailing, sailing, over the deep blue sea."

Went into Pat Kelly's last night to pick up a few morsels. So I would hold together overnight. Charley Ott was devoting some time to the evening meal, and incidentally slipped me some information. George Smith was on the other side of me, but he appeared indifferent about my health. Maybe it's just because it's the holiday season. J. B. Bland looked contented like. The big parade was over. I got out of the place just in time to encounter the blonde. Couldn't remember her name so there wasn't any introduction to the lady who runs the house.

The few weeks left before Christmas are enough if you avail yourself of the time and opportunity. Boost business. Buy now. My street number is in Earl Morrow's new telephone book.

Automobile collisions are common, railroad collisions less frequent, bicycle accidents quite infrequent, but Patrolman Pritchard was called upon to untangle two bikes at the corner of Fourth and Main, take an inventory of casualties, get the names of the participants and sympathize with one of the victims who was able to show a skinned knee for her part of the encounter. It turned out to be a family affair. The girls were sisters.

Two elections this month. You might just as well vote at both. You got to pay your part of the taxes, anyhow.

If this flurry of flu and sore throats and "pain in the neck" keeps gettin' in my way I'm going to deodorize or immunize and vitalize and tell the bugs to keep away from my door. Too many of my friends are capitalizing to germs. If you attempt to diagnose your affliction to a friend he has remedy. By the time you rehearse your grief to more friends you accumulate more remedies, and after awhile when you are sick you are so confused as to which remedy is the better, that the only safe way is to consult your physician. Now, M. D.'s, give me credit for saying for you what you couldn't say for yourself. That's either the virtue or the penalty of the profession.

By the way, the doctors of divinity prescribe tomorrow.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Gee) SKIRVIN

George Portus, whose business it is to accentuate the beauties of Laguna Beach through the office of the chamber of commerce, of which he is the secretary, came to Santa Ana Thursday to see what a nice town we have. It should not be difficult for George to convince visitors that his city has the topographical appeal. God gave it a big start. His work should not be difficult.

Page Mr. Ripley. Attended a church dinner last night and no speeches. I could hardly believe it myself. Just a few words of thanks for the food. Not a bad idea. This speechless banquet may start something that will become popular. Leave it to you if you haven't been at banquets where the food was better than the talks. An interesting sidelight was a display of antiques. I interpreted it as a courtesy that I was not invited to participate. Anyway I wouldn't have had a chance. No thanks for the inference.

Picked the right postmaster. Bet a dollar on my judgment. Got everything but the dollar.

Our tonsorial friends are trying to decide on prices. They want 'em uniform. That's a good way of avoiding complications, removing chiselers and putting the trade on a firmer foundation. But I just been wondering if any arrangements are to be made for us bald-headed buzzards to come in under a cut-rate price. I know a fellow it takes the barber about three minutes to cut his hair, and half an hour to give him a shave. Either he should pay less for the haircut or more for the shave. Will the committee take up that question? I've a friend who would like to get the information.

The postoffice will not accept for mailing, if they know it, packages containing intoxicating liquors. There, said the party making the suggestion, is a hint if they can take it.

Won't be long now before charitable organizations will be loaded up the baskets with food so the holiday season may be brighter for those who have not seen the sunlight of good times. If you eat a little less maybe someone else can eat a little more. Who in the dickens can be happy, anyway, when they know of someone who is hungry?

When Bill Majors asked me what the record of George Kahn I told him it was my understanding that he was to become an understudy for the pilot of the China Clipper. Theme song: "Sailing, sailing, over the deep blue sea."

Went into Pat Kelly's last night to pick up a few morsels. So I would hold together overnight. Charley Ott was devoting some time to the evening meal, and incidentally slipped me some information. George Smith was on the other side of me, but he appeared indifferent about my health. Maybe it's just because it's the holiday season. J. B. Bland looked contented like. The big parade was over. I got out of the place just in time to encounter the blonde. Couldn't remember her name so there wasn't any introduction to the lady who runs the house.

Oral Reading Lost Art in America
A FRIEND laments that the art of intelligible oral reading has disappeared from the land. Children can't read aloud so that the listener can make anything out of it. Older folks have forgotten how, so that it is rare, indeed, to hear a pleasing voice deliver worthwhile thoughts from the printed page. Lecturers, preachers, public speakers, generally, set a poor example to the common people. So runs the lamentation of my beloved friend.

Why have we lost this scene of yore, my friend wants to know. The answer lies in the ravages of the years. Advancing civilization has crushed many delicate flowers under its iron heel. It has been battering at the citadels of our hearts for a hundred years and has overflowed many old-time blessings with its soulless mire.

The old time family itself has disappeared. Mother can read to six or eight children, but she has no time for one or two. And where no children are there the oral reading has gone entirely. And then, I asked my friend, how is it possible to gather around a hole in the wall or a tiny gas heater? Wide-mouthed fireplaces and old-fashioned heating-stoves were more than centers of physical heat. They were the heart-throbs of the household from whence radiated love and peace and large content.

We say these days that people read for thought. But it is a fairly good conclusion that a reader who cannot pronounce his words clearly, who cannot enunciate his own language smoothly, is likewise getting a more or less hazy notion of what he is reading. Hearing, speaking and thinking are more than closely related.
